

RB GROUP ANNOUNCES CFO RETIREMENT AND APPOINTMENT OF SUCCESSOR

Melbourne, Australia; 12 March 2019: Redbubble Limited (ASX: RBL), which owns and operates Redbubble and TeePublic, together the leading global marketplaces for independent artists, announced today that its Chief Financial Officer, Mr Chris Nunn, will be retiring on 30 June 2019.

Mr Nunn's retirement follows four years with the Group, including his initial time as a non-executive director and chair of the Group's Audit & Risk Committee.

Following a comprehensive global search, RB Group is pleased to announce that Mr Nunn will be succeeded by Ms Emma Clark who will join the company in Melbourne. Ms Clark will commence on 1 June 2019, facilitating a smooth transition into the Group's FY2019 full year results and FY2020 operations.

Ms Clark comes to RB Group from her current position as CFO of Australia and New Zealand Banking Group (ANZ)'s Technology division where her role has encompassed finance, strategy, organisational, and risk responsibilities. During her tenure with ANZ, she has also held a number of other senior finance positions. Before ANZ, Ms Clark was Managing Director and Head of Finance & Operations for Citigroup's Diners Club operations in Australia and New Zealand.

RB Group CEO and MD, Barry Newstead, said: "Chris has made significant contributions to RB Group. He has been responsible for leading the financial rigour that has been fundamental to Redbubble's transition to a listed entity and most recently, the acquisition of TeePublic to form the RB Group. I have valued his support, as well as the extensive knowledge, insights and integrity that he has brought to Redbubble. We wish Chris many creative adventures in retirement."

Mr Newstead also said: "We look forward to welcoming Emma to RB Group. She brings a strong track record of leadership in a range of challenging roles. During the search process, she demonstrated a passion for the RB mission and culture as well as the potential to add significant value to RB Group in the years ahead. Emma will focus on enabling disciplined decision making, engaging with shareholders on the value creation potential of the business, and continuing RB Group's rigour in reporting and risk management. The Board, Senior Leadership Team and I are all very excited about working with Emma."
